

What are the LanguageCert International ESOL benefits for employers?

LanguageCert International ESOL Examinations are a proof that the resources you invest into language training deliver their expected return, which in turn is:

- A condition for business growth through working across the borders
- A tool for better understanding market needs through cultural awareness
- A condition for efficient search for information about the industry/global economy.

As you give your staff the chance to enrol for LanguageCert International ESOL Examinations, you will:

- Develop your staff's English language competence to the desired standard
- Improve your staff's ability to communicate with foreign partners
- Enhance the image of your company thanks to the expanded range of the staff's competences
- Be able to get approved as a LanguageCert Approved Test Centre – which is a badge of excellence through the Awarding Body's quality assurance system
- Be able to attract valuable new employees owing to in-house language training for the staff
- Be able to objectively measure your English language training provider's success and performance

Upon the prospect of an international certificate, your employees will:

- Improve their language competence
- Study harder if they know there is a target to achieve
- Perceive studying and exams as a team-building activity (aimed at achieving a goal, which is an exam)
- Develop self-esteem and motivation to achieve
- Rate you higher as an employer

Features - benefits:

On-demand: there is no need to sacrifice work and on-the-job efficiency to prepare for a set date of the exam (like in the case of other exams).

Conducted at a LanguageCert Approved Test Centre: The employee may sit for the exam at the premises of his/her company, which eliminates a stressful atmosphere associated with exams and saves commuting time.

Conducted by Interlocutors: Your employees will have a lower exam stress level and be more successful – as the Interlocutor only conducts the spoken interview without assessing.

Language Cert

Tests communicative skills: Your employees will be able to efficiently use the English language for purposes of work and international communication.

Flexibility of two exams: Depending on their role in the company, you can decide whether you wish to train your employees to be excellent speakers of English, or it would suffice to be functional in reading and writing only - and choose the right exam accordingly.

Mapped to the CEFR: your employees succeeding in a particular level of an International ESOL Exam are guaranteed to have the same level of functionality in English.

How to get started

Arrange for a meeting with a LanguageCert representative. We have a history of helping employers meet their people development needs. We will use all this experience to help you find your own solution.

To contact us, please click here.